Temporary insurance agreement – detach and give to the owner

Except as described below, no	oother insurance coverage is provided by this Temporary insurance agreement.
Temporary insurance is not applicable:  • To a group conversion  • To the exercise of guaranteed insurability options	This temporary insurance is to provide limited coverage (temporary insurance amount) as described below while your application for policy change, numbered as above, is being processed. Coverage under this temporary insurance does not guarantee approval of your application. Any change in insurability while your application is being processed may also affect whether or not your application is approved.
<ul> <li>To a reinstatement</li> <li>If the total underwriting risk is $5,000,000 or greater</li> <li>For a policy change with no overall increase in the amount of life insurance coverage</li> <li>If the actual age of the proposed insured is 71 or over</li> </ul>	In the event of death, while this temporary insurance is in force, of a life (to be) insured who qualifies for temporary insurance coverage, Canada Life will pay the temporary insurance amount (see next section). Any payment under this agreement will be made in accordance with the beneficiary designation(s) in the application and, in cases of joint lives (to be) insured, the plan for which application has been made.
Temporary insurance amount and maximum limit	The temporary insurance amount (or amounts, where temporary insurance becomes payable with respect to two lives or more) cannot exceed $1,000,000, in total, whether alone or together with amount(s) provided by temporary insurance in force with Canada Life under other agreement(s). In the event temporary insurance becomes payable with respect to two lives or more (and if the $1,000,000 limit would otherwise be exceeded), and/or there is(are) amount(s) provided by temporary insurance in force with Canada Life under other agreement(s), there will be a reduction in the temporary insurance amount(s) payable under this agreement, in accordance with the limit and as otherwise equitable, as determined by Canada Life.
	Subject to the limit and other provisions above, the temporary insurance amount is, with respect to  • Any life insured, the amount of any increase in overall coverage applied for in this application on that life.  • Any life to be insured, the amount applied for on that life in this application.
	This temporary insurance and the insurance policy being applied for will not be in force at the same time.
Date coverage begins (Conditions)	Under this agreement the temporary insurance coverage comes into effect, with respect to a life (to be) insured who qualifies for temporary insurance coverage, on the date the application is signed, if, on that date, all the following conditions are met:  (a) The application has been completed;  (b) The questions on the Conditions to qualify for temporary insurance , with respect to that life (to be) insured, have been truthfully answered no and none has been left blank; and  (c) Payment of the estimated first monthly premium (or at least 1/12 of the estimated annual premium) for the policy being applied for has been received. For cases being submitted for preferred underwriting, the regular standard premium must be collected in order for the temporary insurance to be in effect.
Date coverage ends	Insurance coverage under this agreement will end automatically on the earliest of:  (a) The date the insurance under the policy change applied for takes effect;  (b) The date you request cancellation of the application;  (c) 2 days after the date Canada Life cancels or declines the application; and  (d) 90 days after the date this agreement is signed. Processing of the application may continue, but this temporary insurance will no longer be in effect. Payment made with the application will be retained during processing, and applied to your policy if issued, or refunded to you if not issued. Any delay in refunding does not extend temporary insurance coverage.
Exclusion	If a life (to be) insured who qualifies for temporary insurance dies by suicide, whether sane or not, Canada Life's liability under this agreement will be limited to returning the amount paid with this application.

Pre-authorized debit agreement ("agreement")

In this section, you and your refer to the account holder (or holders) from whose account the withdrawals will be made. We and us refer to The Canada Life Assurance Company.

Note: If the account holder is not the owner, the advisor is to make a copy of this agreement and give it to the account holder.

By signing at the bottom of section 11, you understand and agree to the following terms:

Your personal information

- We may collect, store, use and disclose your personal information as needed with regard to this agreement.
- If you're not the owner of the policy, we may share any information about this agreement with the owner, including payment information.

Your authorization for regular withdrawals

- You authorize us and your financial institution you named in 10.1 to withdraw from your account any monthly payments you've agreed to make, including payments that may vary from one withdrawal to the next, and regardless of any change in policy ownership.
   Withdrawals may increase or decrease as the insurance policy is administered, including as a result of any changes to the policy. You release us from any requirement to let you know in advance of these increases or decreases.
- Payments are subject to the provisions of the policy being applied for. If the premium due date in the policy is different than the withdrawal date shown in this agreement, the fact that they're not the same doesn't change the premium due date.
- You agree to review your account information regularly. If you find a transaction made under this agreement doesn't match your records, you have 90 days from the date of the transaction to contact us. After that, we'll consider the transaction to be correct.

If a pre-authorized withdrawal is refused by your financial institution

- If any pre-authorized withdrawal is refused by your financial institution, for example because there are insufficient funds in your account (NSF), we may suspend this agreement. We also have the option of making a second attempt to withdraw the amount, but if we still cannot make the withdrawal, we'll suspend this agreement.
- You'll be responsible for any NSF fees charged by your financial institution if they reject a withdrawal.
- If we suspend this agreement and the owner later wants pre-authorized debit payments to resume, we may require a new pre-authorized debit agreement.

Your rights with respect to unauthorized withdrawals

You have certain recourse rights if any debit does not comply with this agreement. For example, you have the right to receive reimbursement for any debit that is not authorized or is not consistent with this agreement. To obtain more information on your recourse rights, contact your financial institution or visit www.cdnpay.ca.

Account changes

• If your account information changes, you must tell us in writing at least 14 days before the next withdrawal is to be made. However, we may agree to accept verbal instructions from you to change account information.

Cancelling this agreement

• You (or the owner) may cancel this agreement by giving us 30 days' written notice. Or if we decide to cancel the agreement, we'll give you (or the owner) 30 days' written notice. Contact your financial institution or www.cdnpay.ca for a sample cancellation form or for information about cancellation rights.

For more information about this agreement, contact us at 1-888-252-1847 or write to us at the appropriate address indicated on the next page. A copy of this agreement is as valid as the original.
